These facilities are usually characterized by a lack of physical security, such as perimeter fences, security locks and controlled access.

The Social Security Administration provides SSA payments for the care of youth upon the death or disability of their parents who qualify for Social Security benefits. SSI payments may be received for a child who has a limited income due to disability or blindness. Some individuals may receive both SSA and SSI payments; eligibility for benefits depends on the individual meeting the requirements for each program.

The State of Louisiana provides total care for youth whose custody has been assigned to the State. The State is entitled to receive the social security benefits in order to defray the cost of care.

VI. PROCEDURES:

- A. Youth assigned to a secure care facility shall have their Social Security number verified. If the youth has not applied for a Social Security number, appropriate staff shall assist with the application.
- B. Public Safety Services (PSS), Office of Management and Finance (OMF), Financial Services Division runs a weekly secure care custody report. This report shall be faxed to the local Social Security office to determine if Social Security benefits are being received for youth assigned to a secure care facility.

PSS/OMF, Financial Services Division shall apply for any Social Security benefits being received by youth. Youth in a secure care facility can only receive SSA benefits.

- C. For youth assigned to a non-secure residential program, the Community Based Services (CBS) regional office completes a financial assessment packet which is forwarded to DCFS. A determination of eligibility for Social Security benefits shall be made by DCFS and PSS/OMF, Financial Services Division shall apply for benefits. Youth in a non-secure residential program can receive both SSA and SSI benefits.
